

Representative Legal Matters

Pablo Uslé

- Represented a global digital platform in different disputes on content moderation and freedom of speech, including the first case resolved in Spain by the Supreme Court, with a favourable outcome for the client.
- Coordinated different multi-jurisdictional projects for clients in the TMT industry, including strategic advice to assess overall legal risks of operating in specific markets, and advice for the launch of new products, alternative monetisation mechanisms, or advertising initiatives.
- Advised a Spanish financial institution on a ransomware cybersecurity incident, including assistance to create the response team, identification of regulatory and contractual reporting obligations, legal review of the PR strategy and press releases, assistance to assess legal implications of paying a ransom and directors' liability.
- Advised a major European financial institution on the launch of different digital platforms, including advice to assess the most convenient commercial structure and also advice from a regulatory, data protection and IP point of views.
- Assisting various digital platforms in adapting its operation in line with the EU New Deal for Consumers, the EU Digital Services Act and the EU AVMS Directive.
- Assisting various clients to assess impact of upcoming regulations in the tech space and to define proactive plans for compliance.
- Acted for a major e-mobility client to draft and negotiate SaaS, integration and data transfer agreements with several partners.
- Assisting various clients to comply with the EU General Data Protection Regulation.
- Assisting digital platforms in pre-litigation matters and in responding to orders and requests for information from courts, law enforcement or other relevant authorities.
- Acted for a streaming platform in various disputes regarding its ability to increase subscription prices.
- Advised a client in the launch of an NFT platform in Spain, including assistance from a commercial perspective and the analysis of regulatory requirements from perspectives such as privacy, consumer, gaming, financial regulation and intellectual property.
- Advising a travel technology platform on an ongoing basis on various aspects of its business, including marketing, advertising, data protection, intellectual property and consumer law issues.